

Get More Eyes on the Street

Multiplying your “eyes on the street” can help when budgets get tight. Community Oriented Policing (C.O.P.) techniques aren’t new...but a completely Web-based C.O.P. system can be revolutionary. That’s CrimeNet.

In the fight against crime there are two key elements that inhibit community involvement: fear and apathy. Getting your citizens involved in the process is half the battle. Not only does CrimeNet give your citizens instant access to anonymous reporting tools, it also draws them into the process with its Citizen Forum, Personal Messaging, and Dashboard features.

Online forums and Personal Messaging have become very popular. CrimeNet draws people in with these tools, and gets them talking with their neighbors, and with law enforcement.

CrimeNet gives you the tools to make your organization more effective, and your streets safer...even when budgets are tight.

As the saying goes...knowledge is power. And the key to knowledge is communication.

Has anyone seen men behind the laundramat? I saw them last week, and again last night. I think there's some sort of drug deals going on.

Get your Neighborhood Associations involved!

We'll host Forums and Messaging for your Neighborhood Associations on OUR servers. The Associations moderate their own forums, so there's no additional workload for you. You can search forums with CrimeNet's intelligence gathering tools. We offer substantial discounts if a local law enforcement agency purchases CrimeNet in conjunction with neighborhood associations. Law enforcement gets crime reporting and intelligence tools; neighborhood associations get forums, messaging, and dashboards at a big discount.
